

SAC Turns Down Collegians' Poly Royal $400 'Contract'

BY PAT BALL
Staff Writer

It was the Collegians vs. Poly Royal Board and Finance Committee in the Student Affairs Council "courtroom" last Tuesday night. Before a full gallery, SAC ruled that the Collegians would receive $180 for playing at the Coronation Ball at Poly Royal. The band had requested $400. Finance Committee Chairman Tom Bragg made the following facts clear to SAC in his report:

- The Collegians are contracted for 18 dances per year at $180 each.
  - College Union is in charge of contracting the dances.
  - Three days before Poly Royal it was discovered that there was no specific contract for the Coronation Ball, when the Collegians were due to play.
  - Poly Royal Treasurer Peter Narvares made a contract with the Collegians because, according to a letter from him to Finance Committee, "The Collegians told me that they wanted $400 to play for the dance or there would not be any dance. The choice that I had was to write and sign a contract for the $400; Poly Royal Board agreed to this as we had no other choice. It is difficult to contract a band three days before a dance."
- Bragg said, "Poly Royal signed the contract knowing it probably wouldn't get through SAC, therefore misleading the Collegians. College Union, Finance Committee, and Poly Royal Board are all at fault in this matter, but we do not feel the confusion which has ensued warrants a $400 payment to the band. They should be paid their regular fee." He then recommended that SAC approve $180 to be paid to the Collegians for playing at the dance.

As discussion continued, Poly Royal Adviser Carl "Gus" Beck stated, "At no time did the Collegians receive a legal contract from the Poly Royal Board. I told them the contract wasn't valid until it went through SAC and was signed by the graduate manager. It did neither. There was no skulduggery involved in this contract, and I resent the fact that this illusion has been created."

Stefanetti Explains

Chuck Stefanetti, manager and spokesman for the Collegians, explained, "Because of a memo to me from the College Union Dance Committee secretary saying that there was no connection between College Union and the Coronation Ball, I expected a contract from Poly Royal Board. After much discussion, we decided on a $400 contract, which was signed by myself, Carl Beck, and Mr. Davidson. That's the last I saw or heard of it until now."

Davidson Answers

ASB Vice-president Dave Hattings asked, "Why do you want $400 for the dance?" and was answered by H. P. Davidson, Music Department head, "This is a very sore point with me. For years and years the Collegians have been assumed and taken for granted. We heard that Poly Royal Board was paying a four-piece western band $400 to play four hours. To me it's ludicrous to pay this price for them and to pay $180 to a 15-piece dance band which plays for the same amount of time."

"I made the Collegians 25 years ago, and have fought for them ever since. I'm now getting to the point where I wonder if the Associated Student Body really appreciates them. This whole matter is actually a slap in the face to us. Our argument is this: there was no contract for the Coronation Ball; Mr. Beck asked us to play; we, in all good faith, agreed to the contract presented to us. If ASB has suckered us into this, then we want no part of it."

Was It Valid?

The question was raised as to whether the contract was valid or not. ASB President Lee Foreman pointed out that it automatically was invalid because it had not been signed by the graduate manager. Beck again confirmed that he told the Collegians this at the time of making the contract.

Roll Call Vote

Poly Royal Superintendent Emmitt Mundy said, "The Finance Committee has recommended that the band be paid $180 and that is the motion on the floor. Let's vote." A roll call vote passed the recommendation. The Collegians will receive $180 for a $400 "contract."

As Davidson left the meeting he said,

"Thank you very much for your time, and in the future we'll be careful about signing contracts—in fact, we might not play for the Coronation Ball next year. Thank you."

In contrast, Mr. Beck drew a laugh from SAC members and the gallery as he left: "I've got to go home to write an examination and in the frame of mind I'm in, my students had better watch out!"

Jim Dorr, representing a group of interested students, criticized Finance Committee and its policies. "My committee was hit pretty hard when we got our budget back," he said. "When I went to Finance Committee meeting to present reasons why we needed the requested money, the best response I got was a chuckle from the committee members over a private joke being passed around the table. Then the committee cut items out of my second proposed budget without giving what I felt were adequate reasons. Also, we were, as were the Collegians, accused of 'black-mail.' We feel something should be done about these situations."

'Disinterest' Charged

There were points brought out by ASB Secretary Mary Fran Sewall and Music Board of Control Chairman Jim Clark which confirmed that, at times, there is disinterest within Finance Committee. They also pointed out that this is because the apathy of a few members causes a general feeling of disinterest. Clark suggested that Bragg include an analysis of the Finance Committee's problems in his end-of-year report.

Lives Endangered As Thefts Continue to Plague Flyers

By WAYNE COX, Staff Writer

"We're losing fuel and somebody is stealing it," says Alan Beggs, math instructor and member of the campus flying club. Referring to planes parked at the Cal Poly airfield, Beggs said that gasoline has been stolen often when aircraft are parked overnight. "People don't seem to realize the seriousness of this matter," he stated. "Taking the gas isn't as important as that it jeopardizes human lives."

He pointed out that a visitor parked his plane at the airstrip while attending an engineering conference a short time ago. The fuel was siphoned off during the night and in preparing to depart on the follow day, the visitor's plane ran out of fuel while warming up for take off. "It's a good thing this happened while the plane was still on the ground," says Beggs, "or it might have ended in a tragedy."

"The California Penal Code specifically provides that a person can be arrested and charged with a misdemeanor if he so much as places a hand on a parked aircraft, and violators are subject to both fine and imprisonment," according to J. R. Jones instructor in the Business Law Department and ex-FBI agent.

"If a person in any manner tampers with a commercial airplane which flies interstate, he automatically falls under Federal jurisdiction, and we often have such aircraft at our field," Jones added.

He also said that penalties for persons tampering with commercial airplanes involves federal action requiring investigation by the FBI. Felony charges can be brought against violators in U.S. District Courts.

In addition to the theft of gas, Beggs reported that propellers have been turned, doors left open, and equipment mislabeled. Any one of these acts is in violation of the law.

College Union Officers Installation on June 3

New officers and committee chairman of College Union will be installed at the annual awards banquet on June 3 in the Staff Dining room.

They are: Chairman, Harold Hinkle, Junior Industrial Engineering major, San Luis Obispo; Vice Chairman, Luis Cisneros, Junior Industrial Engineering major, La Paz, Bolivia; Recording Secretary, Diane Oberholzer, freshman Biological Sciences major, San Luis Obispo.

Corresponding Secretary, Flo Tepper, sophomore Home Economics major, Culver City; and Treasurer, Bob Bettsworth, sophomore Social Sciences major, Sunland.

First Folk Festival on Campus Free To Students And Staff

Cal Poly's First Annual Folk Festival will be held Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater.

According to Tom Newbill, Fine Arts Committee Chairman, the festival will be co-sponsored by the Fine Arts Committee and the College Union.

Tickets are free, and all staff and students are invited to attend. Six groups will perform.

JUNIOR CLASS BARBECUE

Chicken, beans, salad, punch and ice cream are on the menu for the Junior Class barbecue to be held Sunday at 5 p.m. at Poly Greve.

The meal is free to all Junior Class card holders and only $1 for anyone else, announced Ed Zimmerman, Junior Class vice president.

Everyone Welcome At Judging Contest

All comers will have an opportunity to try a hand at livestock judging during the 15th annual all-college judging contest tomorrow at 9 a.m. in the Livestock Pavilion.

According to Richard F. Johnson, Animal Husbandry instructor, any student may enter one of the two divisions—novice or senior.

The event, which is planned and sponsored by the Cal Poly Intercollegiate Livestock Judging team, will feature two classes each of sheep and swine, three classes of market cattle and one of horses.

Emphasis will be on the desirable live carcass animal, since some of the cattle used in tomorrow's contest will be slaughtered and used as cut up carcass classes for the Western Fairs Association Judging conference to be held here May 14 and 15.

Student judges will give one set of oral reasons for each species judged. Former judging team members will hear oral reasons from each contestant at four separate locations following judging of all classes of livestock.

Awards, donated by the campus Boots and Spurs Club, will be presented at the Animal Husbandry banquet to be held in the Staff Dining Room Sunday at 6:00 p.m. Trophies will be presented to top scorers in the sheep, swine, horse and cattle competitions.

Members of the 1961 Intercollegiate Livestock Judging team responsible for organizing the contest are Arthur Linton, Stuart Brown, Lee Hall, Gerald Hunt and Gordon Gibson Johnson, who is judging team coach, is serving as advisor to the committee.

Brendlin Receives Honorary Degree

Foundation manager Eugene E. Brendlin was awarded the honorary State Farmer degree by California Future Farmers of America at their 84th annual convention held last week on campus.

The FFA's highest state honor went to Brendlin who has been Foundation manager for the past 10 years, for his interest in the FFA.

Outgoing state FFA President Jerry Diefenderfer noted that through the Cal Poly Foundation many services are provided for delegates during the annual conference and the state judging contest finals held on campus each year.

Prior to joining the Cal Poly staff, Brendlin taught agriculture in several California high schools where he helped direct FFA programs.

'Cossacks' Film Flick In Little Theater

Tonight's College Union movie is "The Cossacks," starring Edmund Purdon, John Barrymore, and Georgia Moll.

This is a story about the Russian Civil War in 1918-1919. It tells of a Cossack who wages a relentless war in revolt against Czar Alexander II.

Homecoming Committee Seeks Theme for 1962

Homecoming for 1962 is in the planning stages, with parade and dance theme ideas being sought by the Homecoming Committee.

All groups and students are urged to place their ideas in the Homecoming box in the ASB Office by May 18. The winner will be announced in El Mustang, and awarded a plaque.

Homecoming dance sponsorships are also open, and interested groups should contact John Burr, dance chairman, Homecoming box, ASB Office.

Home Concert Discs On Sale on Patio

Home Concert and Specialty records, are now on sale on the El Corral patio.

Featuring selections of the Collegians, Men's Glee Club, Women's Glee Club, and the combined choir, the Home Concert record will cost $2.95.

The specialty record features special songs of these groups as well as selections of the Majors and Minors, Men's Quartet, and Women's Sextet, selling for $2.95.

Dr. E. Lovett Heads ACHA Top Section

Dr. Earl D. Lovett, head of the Campus Health Center, was elected chairman of the administrative section, American College Health Association at a recent conference in Chicago.

Dr. Lovett is one of five section chairmen and will serve on the executive board to help plan activities of the organization.

He will plan next year's program and serve on the editorial board of the society's journal, in addition to other administrative duties.

The Association is a society for the preservation and improvement of 1600 student health centers. Nearly 100 member groups were represented at the conference. The theme was "Research in Student Health Medicine."

Dr. Lovett served on a panel dealing with research in areas of student health medicine. He also presented a paper on a cost accounting in medicine.

Dr. Lovett commented, "There has been a fantastic change in attitude toward college health centers in the past ten years. Our whole program is being activated by student needs."

"At one time only the financially favored attended college and money was no object. To today's average student, illness is tragedy. That's why we're here, to provide care that the students can afford."

Home Economics Club To Install Officers

Newly elected Home Economics Club officers will be installed Thursday evening, May 17, at 7:30 in Mathematics and Home Economics 114. Last year's president, Shirley Otto, will install the new officers.

Newly elected officers are Carlisle Cooper, president; Judy Rydman, vice president; Janet Opatoshnik, secretary; Harold Marr, treasurer; James Williams, chairman; Louise Hanks, publicity chairman; Betty Davis, Poly Royal Board representative; and Judy Frost and Cathy DeGasperis, Arts and Sciences Council representatives.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Ag. Council Names Camp as Speaker

Bill Camp, nationally recognized agriculturalist who helped to introduce cotton growing to California, will speak on "The Government and Agriculture," Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater.

His talk, sponsored by the Agricultural Council, is open to everyone. Present and past government agricultural programs will be among the topics discussed. Camp is a forceful advocate of the free enterprise system in the U.S., says J. Cordner Gibson, assistant dean of agriculture.

Presently a cotton and potato grower in Bakersfield, Camp is chairman of the committee on voluntary labor for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

He served for seven years as the chairman of the Agricultural Council of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and was on the Board of Directors of the Farm Bureau.

VIEWPOINT

Our 30th and Greatest!

EDITOR:

What a wonderful Poly Royal! ... a very interesting open house put on by intelligent, and mature students.

Here are some excerpts from remarks overheard when students were talking with their parents and friends: "You should have seen it fly at the Cafeteria Thursday night! The light reflecting off that red, yellow and green jello as it flew through the air, was a sight for sore eyes! The lima beans and peas really cover a lot of area as they slip through the air and pepper everybody! What a ball!"

On the scene of the food fight: "Look at some of those foreign students snicker! That one is actually getting mad just because we're throwing a little food! He must be thinking about those dumb little foreign kids he's seen who weren't smart enough to get born in the United States!"

Steve Canada

EDITOR'S NOTE: So what else is new?

Thievery?

EDITOR:

I am really disgusted by the amount of thievery being committed at Cal Poly. I have never encountered such a dishonest number of people as I have here.

I am sure that the cafeteria, book store, the El Corral, and the dorms have shocking statistics of stolen goods. In my drafting room there is a steadily diminishing number of chairs. I have seen four of those chairs in the apartments of four different students.

One may think that the "borrowing" of sheets from the dorms and of dishes from the cafeteria is a clever and economical method of supplying an off-campus residence. Yet when these few dishes and sheets are multiplied by an astonishing number of thieves, the loss is substantially large. To those of you who are guilty, do not think that your actions go unobserved. There is only that unwritten law that one does not rat on others that protects you, but do not think it protects your reputation in the eyes of others.

A few dollars spent on dishes and silverware is surely not such a great expense that one must steal to avoid it. Cal Poly students should have too much honor and pride to be accused of such negligently acts of dishonesty.

A Minority Group

EDITOR:

There is a minority group in this college, so impressed with their own importance, so consulted, and so scatter-brained that they actually believe they have the right to break laws made for them to follow.

This group is supposedly composed of the "Victimized Students," the "Future Taxpayers," and the sweet young things that a "rag-tag motley assortment of hiring gossapo . . ." menacingly threaten.

Not so! In reality they are incompetent, squawking adolescents that have to have their sweaty little hands held while they are guided down the path that all adult, law-abiding citizens must follow.

A law is a law! If it is an unjust law, then we initiate action that will cause it to be rescinded. We write the Governor, circulate petitions, and enlist the aid of prominent citizens. Until that law is rescinded, we are morally and ethically (I presume) bound to obey it. Regarding the law at issue, we are bound to pay the tax until the legislature determines otherwise.

If these future taxpayers refuse to pay the tax that all are required to pay, the costly procedures necessary to extract their few dollars far exceeds the income realized from said procedures and they are, by definition, parasites. By lashing out at the public servants who enforce the law, they vividly demonstrate their child-like tendencies, the adolescent state of their minds. One wonders how they ever gained entrance to college with attitudes that are normally corrected in grade school.

What about students who buy parking permits and work toward the rescinding of the permit law? (I hopelessly include those who have their permit fee included in their board fees.)

We believe it is altogether proper that the violators should be

Counselors Needed For Welcome Week

An open meeting for students interested in counseling at next year's Welcome Week will be held Thursday, May 17, at 7 p.m. in Adm. 214.

"Any persons sincerely wishing to participate in Welcome Week next fall should attend the meeting. The counselor jobs are responsible positions offering good experience in leadership, and a great enjoyment," said Dean of Women Arlene Vokoun.

The only qualification needed to become a counselor is a genuine interest in the activity, it is reported.

Welcome Week was started to perpetuate a friendly campus tradition, help the new student develop a feeling of belonging, acquaint new students with the campus and community, and assist him in getting a successful start in college.

The program has expanded each year with the enrollment. This year according to Arlene Vokoun, Welcome Week Committee is expecting nearly 2000 more students and will need approximately 200 counselors.

Spearheading the program next year is the Welcome Week Executive Board consisting of Art Vos, general chairman; Mac Dyer, 1st vice-chairman; Sharon Boyson, 2nd vice-chairman; Flo Tepper, secretary; James Dorr, treasurer; Bob expelled. We that uphold the law, whether we like the law or not, do not wish to associate with these snivelling infants who have not yet discerned the difference between right and wrong; these incompetent parasites that we must partially support. Good riddance!

Thirty FFA Teams Try Land Judging

Thirty California FFA teams participated in the state land judging contest conducted by the student chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America and members of the Soil Science department staff last Saturday.

First place winner, Modern high school, is now eligible to go to Oklahoma City next May to compete in the National land judging contest. Bill Bassett of Hanford took the individual first place.

Judges were: Dr. Logan Carter, head of Cal Poly Soil Science department; Raymond Leighty, of the same department and Harry Welch, head of the Soil Science department of Cal Poly at Pomona.

Kennedy, publicity; and Shirley Dubin, historian.

Heading up the general committees are John Lang, dances; Alie Yount, registration; Penny Satterberg, movies; Barry Eisenberg, Poly Follies; Nancy Boutonnet, lunches; Jim Quick, tours; Carla Schmidt, misers; Sandy Hayman, recreation; Pete Smith, beach party; and Judy Silva, "Invitation to Thought."

Spring Sports Roundup

By DAVE JONES, Staff Writer

Mustang spring sports reached a climax last weekend when the track squad, the tennis and the golf teams competed in the final CCAA all-league championship tournaments.

The swimming team won third at the 12th annual State College meet, and the baseball team played a three-game series prior to closing league play this weekend.

In baseball Cal Poly captured one of three games from San Diego State. The Mustangs were victimized for six runs in the second inning and four in the eighth, dropping Friday's opener 11-6.

Poly grabbed the first game on Saturday 8-3, scoring five runs in the ninth. The team dropped the nightcap 7-4. The weekend left Poly with a 3-12 league mark. Only a three game series remains with San Fernando Valley State this weekend. A sweep by the Mustangs will pull them out of the cellar, while two wins will tie them with the SFV Matadors. Fresno State clinched the CCAA crown last weekend.

The league track championships were held Saturday in Los Angeles and Cal Poly's cindermen placed four men. Dennis Jones won the high jump with a leap of 6 feet 4 inches, while the Mustang's Lloyd Petroelje and Ron Hon took third in the discus and in the 120 high hurdles. Poly's "Ingo" Hall-steinsson was fifth in the javelin. Long Beach State took the team title with 64 points followed by LA State 50½, Fresno State 40½, San Diego State 34, Santa Barbara 20, Cal Poly 12, and San Fernando Valley 4.

After grabbing second place behind Long Beach State in the CCAA championship meet held several weeks ago, the Mustang swim team captured third place in the 12th annual California State College Swimming and Diving championships at Fresno. Long Beach State won first with 110 points, followed by San Jose State with 118. The Mustangs scored 87 points in closing out their season.

The CCAA tennis tournament found LA State and San Diego State in a tie for the third straight year. Cal Poly placed fourth, finishing the season with a 7-10 record.

The net team lost to Los Angeles State 6-1 Thursday. On Friday the Mustangs defeated SF Valley 4-3, and were defeated twice 7-0 by San Diego State, and 6-1 by UCSB on the final day. Ron Batchelder won three singles matches Friday.

The San Diego State Astec golfers, with a low team card of 586, captured the CCAA golf crown last Friday at the Yorba Linda Country Club. Cal Poly took fifth place behind the Astecs, Fresno State, LA State, and UCSB. Long Beach State and San Fernando Valley finished behind Poly.

9 Groups Qualify For Spring Sing

Of the 16 groups entering preliminary try-outs last week for the annual College Union Spring Sing, nine groups qualified and will sing in the event, May 18.

Those groups are: Trinity Hall singing "How to Catch a Man;" Rally Club singing "Swing Low" and "Staleness-Geneva Conference;" Santa Lucia Hall singing "Sound of Music" and "My Favorite Things;" Bridge Club singing "The Naughty Lady of Shady Lane;" Sequoia Hall singing "Moon River;" Tenaya Hall singing "Charlottown" and "Eternal Father;" Hillel Club singing "Go Down Moses;" Wesley Fellowship singing "The Banana Boat Song;" and the Tenaya Specialty Group singing "By the Light of the Silvery Moon" and "Roll Jordan Roll."

Over 160 students participated in the nine groups that qualified. Spring Sing will be on Friday May 18, at 8:15 p.m. in the Men's Gymnasium at which time, the best organization of the nine finalist groups will be chosen.

To date 850 students have applied for transfer to Cal Poly from other colleges for next fall.

Tollner, Hopkins Whip Spartans in Twin Bill

Cal Poly's baseball team took three out of four recent non-conference games, including a pair from tough San Jose State in a double-header. The Mustangs also defeated Vandenberg AFB but lost to Westmont.

Pitching stars Ted Tollner (4-1) and Don Hopkins (1-3) brought in the victories over San Jose in 6-5 and 7-1 games. Tollner gave up five runs in the opening frame and then stopped San Jose scoring the remaining eight innings. The Spartans were shut out by Hopkins until the final frame in the seven inning nightcap.

Eleven Home Ec. Majors Take Cake-Judging Tour

Eleven members of the Home Economics department will judge 4-H cakes at Nojoqui Falls in Santa Barbara county on May 12. Judges are: Jeanne Glenn, Helen Hille, Marian Krouth, Harriet Marr, Nellanne Nettleship, Shirley Otto, Mariene Pueta, Sue Pyman, Joyce Russell, Kay Smith, and Sue Wegia.

Trinity Tops GPA For Second Time

Trinity Hall led the GPA race for winter quarter with an average of 2.51, an increase over their fall quarter figure of 2.46, also highest on campus. Winner of the north mountain dorms' trophy was Whitney, 2.35, and of the College Ave. dorms, Jespersen, 2.33.

Other south mountain hall figures were Santa Lucia, 2.46; Muir, 2.40; Fremont, 2.37; Sequoia, 2.34; Tenaya, 2.30. Following Whitney in the north mountain group are Palomar, 2.32; Shasta, 2.29; Lassen, 2.29; Diablo 2.28. College Ave. halls finished Heron, 2.36; Chase, 2.36; Deuel, 2.17.

Results of the quarterly competition were announced at a residence hall staff meeting last week by Robert Bostrom, residence hall supervisor-counselor. The trophies are being engraved now, he added, and will be presented soon.

STEAK PICNIC JUNE 8

The annual Soils Club picnic will be held this year at Cuesta Park on June 8. Steak will be served at $1.50 per plate.

TCU Student Manager Position Now Available

Anyone interested in becoming manager of the TCU should submit an application to Graduate Manager Robert Spink in the ASB office.

In applying, a letter of application should state the student's qualifications and reasons for wanting the position.

Manager of the TCU gets free room and ten dollars per month. Responsibilities are to keep the TCU clean and presentable, and to coordinate programs in the TCU with the College Union.

Applications should be submitted no later than Friday, June 1.

Campus Security Officers Stress Fire Prevention

With the coming of camping weather, the campus security officers remind students, staff, and faculty who take to the woods to take heed of simple rules and regulations.

Because one of every four man-caused forest fires begin along roadsides, throwing matches and cigarettes from an automobile should not be practiced. Throwing of any lighted object or substance from a moving vehicle is a misdemeanor.

BSEE-MSEE GRADUATES

As a graduate engineer, you undoubtedly want to seek affiliation with an engineering organization in which you can specialize in your particular area of interest. Such an organization should be able to assure you that as a member of its engineering team, your professional growth is limited only by your capacity to expand your engineering "know-how."

Your firm should be expected to present to you a career plan, wherein company sponsored educational programs combine with challenging assignments to provide ample opportunity for you to move forward in your profession.

Your firm should be expected to encourage creativity and the early acceptance of responsibility. GILFILLAN is such an organization.

The research and development programs at GILFILLAN now offer a wide variety of opportunities for graduate engineers who seek careers in electronics.

Why not request that the Placement Center arrange an interview so that we can meet when I am on campus Wednesday, May 11. I will welcome an opportunity to answer any questions you may have concerning GILFILLAN. Whether you have decided on an affiliation or not, I promise that our interview will be most enlightening.

Two Plays in May
Set for Theater

Casts for this quarter's two one-act plays "The Monkey's Paw" and "Man in the Bowler Hat" have been selected by directors Keith Nilsen of the English and Speech department, and Jack Hyams, a student in Printing.

The play will be presented May 24 and 26 at 8:30 p. m. in the Little Theatre, the first plays to be presented in the newly built theater.

The cast for "The Monkey's Paw" is Rodger Hille as Mr. White, and Judy Mabane as Mrs. White. Gary Webb will portray Herbert White, the son, with Dave Harper as Sergeant-Major Morris, and Rich Saylor as Mr. Sampson. Nilsen will direct the play.

The setting is situated on the outskirts of Fulham, the eastern swamp and of London, in an old fashioned cottage. The story centers around superstition and belief in the supernatural controlling human destiny and its influence on human nature. A cockney accent will be carried throughout the play.

Hyams, director of "Man in the Bowler Hat," picked the following: Lonis Allen as the Hero, Billie Carr as the Heroine and Derek Mills as the Villain. Bob Sanders will portray the "bad man," with Rae Colvard as Mary.

This situation farce revolves around the Rajah's ruby and a mistaken identity of who has what and where. The original English setting will be transposed to the central California scene.

Dairy Majors Take Showman Awards

John Winters, a Dairy Husbandry major from Wapato, Washington received the Sweepstakes award in the fitting and Showmanship contest held by the Dairy department during Poly Royal. Runner up for the Sweepstakes was Fred Silva, a Dairy Manufacturing major from Los Banos.

First place in the Jersey class also went to Fred Silva; second to Don Kaufman; Dairy Husbandry major from Auburn; and third to Georgia Whitty, Elementary Education major, Ventura.

First place in the Guernsey class was won by John Winters; second by Frank Giacomini, D. H. major, Arcata, and third by Louis Horton, Animal Husbandry major, Bakersfield.

First place in the Holstein entries was awarded to George Nunes, D. H. major, San Rafael; second to Richard Cotta, D. H. major, Salinas; and third to Thomas Cate, D. H. major, Shell Beach.

Women's Club Sets
Foreign Picnic

Poly Women's Club will sponsor a foreign student picnic on May 19 at 12:30 p.m. in Poly Grove. The annual picnic is "to give the faculty and the foreign students a chance to get together on an informal basis," said Mrs. Elan Tellew, wife of Dr. Fuad Tellew, foreign student adviser.

Food, pot luck style, will be furnished by the Poly Women's Club, and the foreign students will have a chance to participate in many American games, including baseball and football.

Invitations will be sent to foreign student individually, Mrs. Tellew said.

ATTENTION, LATE SENIORS!
Diplomas have been ordered for June graduates, but if any graduating seniors did not get their application in on time, it is still possible to have a diploma ordered by contacting the Records Office immediately.
